SLOW FEED BOWL

>> Does your dog gobble down it's food in a flash? Does your dog suffer from hick-ups, a tendency to bloat, laryngeal spasm, gagging, coughing etc.? These all pose potential health risks and digestive problems. Gastric torsion (swallowing air whilst eating, resulting in the stomach twisting along its own axis), presents as a veterinary emergency and is often fatal. Deep chested, large breed dogs are more at risk. Best to be prevented. Ask your Vet for advice.

Here is one easily employable practical solution to your problem. Dogs should preferably be fed their daily allowance in divided meals ie. twice a day. Dogs with digestive problems, 3 to 4 times a day, as recommended by your vet.

The DOGMA slow feed bowl was designed to prolong a dog's eating period up to 6 times and longer.

IT IS THE BEST QUALITY DOG BOWL ON THE MARKET.

VET REFERENCES

>> I have been using the new DOGMA Slow Feed Bowl on all eight of my own dogs with great success. The competition at feeding time, which is twice a day is extremely intense and food gets gobbled up in no time. The first finished runs to the slower feeders and harrasses them. Gagging and laryngeal spasms had been a common phenomena. Since using the DOGMA Slow Feed Bowl mealtime is a pleasure. They finish their meals MUCH slower and more equally, so no altercations between dogs. Also no more gagging and laryngeal spasms. What a pleasure. It is so much healthier to eat slower, chew their food for longer, breaking it into smaller pieces - referred to as mastication- and consequently promote better digestion thereof, just as it works for us! <<

>> Using the DOGMA slow feed bowl is my number one recommendation for dogs that eat too fast.

The DOGMA slow feed bowl is the only non-surgical manner I know of reducing the chance of GDV in your dog. <<

HOW IT CAME TO LIFE

>> Hi - I am Malaika, a German trained holistic vet and I have been working in a veterinary clinic in Munich for 6 years. Most of my life I have been involved in animal rescue work - I am very passionate about the well-being of animals, our environment and our planet. It is for this reason that I have spent much time in researching and developing products for the South African market which are durable, affordable and are beneficial for your pets.

All DOGMA products are manufactured in accordance with my stern code of ethics, from inception to the final product.

Every step of the production is supervised by myself using the best and most ecofriendly materials available - no shortcuts!

I am very proud to state that all DOGMA products are made locally in South Africa and not in countries with unscrupulous labour laws, with failing human and animal rights and very little respect for our mother earth.

This is my mission statement which I vouch for with my name.
